Section 1

This document tests that `position: running()` elements appear in margin boxes on every page that the document spans. The header and footer above and below this content are running elements.

The header should read "Fulgur VRT — Running Element Fixture" on each page, including page 2.

Page break verification: the second section below has page-break-before so that the running header is exercised on page 2 too.

Section 2 (page 2)

This section starts on page 2. The same running header / footer must appear here.

> If running elements are not collected per-page correctly, the @top-center / @bottom-center boxes on this page will be empty and the byte-eq comparison against the seeded golden will fail.